

This was made in a class I took right after I retired. It was my first attempt at such a large amount of appliqué and the Lone Star pattern.