

This was made with a pattern by Judy Niemeyer and started at the Quilt Corner's quilt retreat. I went gung-ho on it until it was about 3/4ths done and then it hung on my display boards for about a year. I finished this summer just in time for the quilt show. It's made with batik fabrics and I quilted it with Superior's King Tut, Rainbows and metallic threads.