

I knew I had to make this quilt as soon as I laid eyes on it in the Jane Hardy Miller book I found in the vendors at last year's quilt show. Suzanne at Cozy Corner helped me put the colors together. I actually constructed a panel, took out a color and inserted another after looking at our first color sequence. It was an very 'forgiving' pattern.